WHITE SUPREMACY IN BLACKFACE ART EXHIBITION

"Where have all the heroes gone"? THE ROCHESTER BLACK ARTS COUNCIL has yet again stepped up to the plate to tell our story through the commemoration of the annual celebration of Black History month. RBAC will present this monumental exhibition in the late Honorable Minister Franklin Florence's church home The Central Church of Christ in the City of Rochester. Featuring a plethora of CREATORS ranging from visual artist, musicians, photographers, and poets who will pay homage to the messages of Gill Scott Heron, The Last Poets and the Watts Prophet.

The Rochester Black Arts Council is very thrilled to give the Greater Community Of The City Of Rochester an opportunity to view and acknowledge all the talented and award winning depictions of the good and the bad in our community and how we must come together to fix, heal and repair our communities while taking a view through the looking glass of our story to unveil the mystery of who we are and how WE are to achieve our victory. Why don't you take a journey with us for the Month of February to see what's really going on?
